The Campbell Program Bachelor of Business Administration

The degree in Business Administration with a major in Accounting is a flexible degree, consisting of courses which prepare you for a variety of options after graduation focusing on the accounting and bookkeeping side of business. Graduates find employment opportunities in business, government, and non-profit and corporate organizations. Many enter a Master of Business Administration (MBA) program after graduation.

An ideal major for students who are great in math and detailed oriented for business practices and keeping track of payroll, accounts and other financial polices of an organization. This degree is especially attractive to students planning to work in a family business or to go into business for themselves.

The Extended Campus Approach

Campbell University understands that adult learners seek a balance between education, career, family and military responsibilities. The average Extended Campus student will complete 24-30 semester hours per year while attending classes only two nights per week.

Classes are scheduled during the evenings, at lunch, and on Saturday. Weekday classes meet two nights per week with two class periods each night. Campbell's Office of Distance Education offers internet courses each term which provide adult learners additional flexibility in degree completion. Additionally, most campuses have Blended courses, which meet in the classroom one night per week and have an internet component.

Students normally enroll in two classes (six semester hours) during each of the five terms offered annually. This full time schedule qualifies students for financial aid and/or VA education entitlements.

Campbell University believes that no student should be denied a college education for financial reasons. Low tuition rates at the extended campuses reflect this progressive philosophy. All students should see the financial aid representative for qualifying programs.
